Continuation of 5. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: an endoluminal prosthesis as recited in independent claim 24 only requires self expandable loops and plastically deformable connector elements. PINCHASIK stent includes loops that are self expandable and connector elements that are plastically deformable. Therefore, at least independent claim 24 is clearly anticipated by PINCHASIK et al. (5,449,373) as rejected in the previous "Final Office Action".
